

2020 Marching Band Show

Check out our 2020 Marching Band Show! The music has been ordered and as soon as I receive it, I'll be sending it out to everyone to start looking at it!

I hope you like it- I think the music is really outstanding and will give us a good balance of things to push ourselves to be better at while also showcasing some of our strengths!

The source material for the music is 3 :1) there are some pieces of the new Star Trek music (by Michael Giacchino) in there, 2) the majority of the music comes from a Cirque du Soleil show called "Ka", and 3) there is some original music that the arranger, Scott Ward, put in there to tie everything together.

The show is titled "Hero's Quest" on the website. I'm still working with our staff on what to do for the show design-wise for next year, but preliminarily I'm leaning towards this show actually being themed about VIKINGS! As you listen to the show, think about Vikings going out on a voyage in the first movement and perhaps getting into a battle in the 3rd movement and let me know if you can hear that.

I'm going to provide links to some things for you to listen to and then I want you to share your thoughts on the source music and the show.

Make a copy of this document, fill out your thoughts and submit to Schoology by Friday!
